Amendments to the Specification:

Please amend the specification as follows:

Please replace paragraph starting at page 13 line 7, with the following rewritten paragraph:

Second, the information converter 14 converts link target document location information, included in the non-text part T3, for representing a location of a link target document into a link target document translation instruction part to produce a converted non-text part T7. The link target document translation instruction part is used for permitting the terminal to send the translation instruction including the source language information and the target language information in the language information input column and the link target document location information to the translation server 10 when the link target document is selected.
